

Kermadec Island Trip
22 May—1 June 2020
$5750

The RV Braveheart, owned by Stoney Creek Shipping will be home for the for the trip.

At 39 metres long, constructed of steel, with a helicopter deck and capable of steaming for 33 days non-stop, owner Nigel Jolly says they have been doing the impossible since 1995. The vessel has visited the Kermadecs many times and has spent time in parts of the Pacific and Southern Oceans including the remote Pitcairn Islands and Kerguelen Island.

All the food will be on board at departure as no fish or any other food is allowed to be collected in the Kermadec marine reserve.

The vessel is well equipped for research expeditions, can handle 16 metre swells and has even carved its way through ice in the Antarctica. International agencies who have used the RV Braveheart include National Geographic, the UK Government and New Zealand Department of Conservation.

Contact Steve Grant if this adventure is a bit of you. 027 658 3599

The Herald Islands, off the north-east corner of Raoul Island, support a high diversity of marine plants and animals. © Malcolm Francis

Cheeseman Island, in the southern Kermadec Islands. © Malcolm Francis